Description

Gaining and developing practical skills to assist with the programme for young people in the Section.

This means:

- ❖ learning or improving a wide range of practical skills that would be appropriate to include in a Section programme
- ❖ developing your ability and understanding of two practical skills
- ❖ using one of your new or developed skills in their Scouting role
- ❖ being able to pass on those skills to young people.

Test yourself questions

1. Do you know at least two practical skills that can be used in a Scouting programme?

2. Can you explain how to ensure that chosen practical skills are appropriate to the section you work with?

3. Can you identify the safety and risk assessment procedures involved in training others in practical skills?

4. Do you know how to effectively teach practical skills to young people?

Details of my experience:

Enter here the details of any recent experience you have gained on this topic. For example, if you attended a course, who ran the course? Where? When? What qualification (if any) did you get?

How is this module validated?

To validate this module, you must complete two tasks. You need to choose one from the following list and, before starting the module, discuss and agree your choice with your Training Advisor

- 1) Learn or develop a practical skill which can be used in Scouting
- 2) Instruct a young person in carrying out two practical skills, ensuring that:
 - the skill is appropriate for the section the young person belongs to
 - the young person is aware of, and follows, safety and risk assessment procedures
- 3) Demonstrate two practical skills, at least one of these skills is one that you have learnt or developed in your role in Scouting, ensuring that:
 - the skill is appropriate for the section the young person belongs to
 - safety and risk assessment procedures are followed appropriate
- 4) Any other ideas, subject to agreement with a Training Adviser.
